

“Well I never knew that .....”

Next to face the music is Peter Hudson. My thanks to him.

How long have you been playing bowls?

About ten years

Your favourite piece of music?

Anything on the Motown label ( a trend seems to be developing here)

What did you do in your working life?

I joined the Royal Navy straight from school and spent most of my time in the navy serving in submarines. After that, I worked in Brighton supplying catering disposables to pubs, clubs and restaurants

Which living person do you must admire?

The English Football referee Ken Aston who in the 1962 World Cup had the dubious honour of being the referee in the match between the hosts and Italy which became known as the Battle of Santiago because of its extreme violence with the first player being sent off after four minutes.

Favourite meal?

Sunday Roast

Favourite holiday destination?

West Coast of Scotland

Favourite book?

The Greatest Wicketkeepers by David Lemon. Peter is a keen follower of cricket and has played nearly 500 games for his club, Brighton and Hove Crescent with great distinction. As a wicketkeeper he took 234 catches and made 122 stumpings. He also scored 5000 runs and took 76 wickets.

Proudest moment?

Becoming a father

Favourite place to play bowls other than Bembridge?

Warners because in the dull moments I can always watch the boats

Favourite film?

Any Carry On film
